

Knowing the Unknown God

In the Book of Acts we read about the Apostle Paul speaking to a crowd in Athens. Paul says that he saw a monument to someone called “the unknown god.” The people didn’t want to miss any god. They had statues and altars to many imaginary deities and put the marker there to take care of any they may have missed.

Paul told them about the real, knowable God. What good news! Paul shared with them the story of Christ’s death and resurrection. Some scoffed, but others listened.

Those of us in the modern world can know God. He is not just a name, chiseled in stone.

We can believe in Him, accept Christ as the One who died and rose again to pay for our sins.

“For God so loved the world that He gave His only begotten Son, that whoever believes in Him should not perish but have everlasting life (John 3:16 NKJV).

We can know Him-the real God.
